Where we sourced our inspiration for Korlok...

Spotted Gum

The Spotted Gum tree flourishes in coastal areas along the Eastern seaboard of Australia, ranging from the mountains of the Great Dividing Range to the sunshine coast of Queensland. Large amounts of sapwood can be seen within the boards and this adds to the blend of features that make the product so distinctive. Even when coloured, the sap creates a tonal plank that will work in all interiors.

Australian Ghost Gum

These boards were taken from the evergreen, fast growing species that is native to central Australia. The linear grain is caused by the tree's speed of growth and results in beautiful colour variation. This variation in colour hues creates a striking canvas that will add impact in any interior yet will also work with many other objects to create a harmonious space.

Butternut

Often referred to as white walnut, the original butternut planks were sourced from the Eastern parts of the United States. Real butternut is even softer than walnut, making it highly impractical when it comes to flooring, but with Korlok you have the beauty of the real wood in a highly durable format.

Blackbutt

A quintessential Australian hardwood that takes its name from the lower half of the tree's trunk which is blackened by the fierce forest fires that both destroy, and then renew. These boards were sourced from the very North of New South Wales where thick forests merge with the beautiful coastline. Great care was taken to retain the oozing sap lines that add to the distinctive linear grain and bleed into the timber.

Texas Ash

Ash boards are dominated by an attractive straight grain with just the occasional hint of a flowery grain. In its natural format, the wood is a consistent, neutral colour due to the tree's growth in limestone soil types with very little rainfall.

Canadian Oak

These nature grade planks feature a straight grain detail which is then blended with a small amount of character grade wood to produce a clean, neutral floor design.

Baltic Oak

The distinctive markings of the Baltic Oaks were achieved by mixing grades, from ultra-prime to nature grade boards. The original planks were machine brushed to create a unique open grain and coloured oils were hand applied to create a limed effect.

Painted Acacia

This beautiful species is rarely seen in modern flooring due to its strong colouration and irregular appearance. The natural product is difficult to alter due to its impervious nature, so after a light wire brushing to unearth the internal beauty of this timber, we “painted” the boards to darken and neutralise the original red tones, resulting in a beautiful, unique design that really has the wow factor.

English Oak

This characterful oak was sourced from the ancient British woodland of South Oxfordshire. Its weathered look allows for a muted yet distinctive floor while the tonal variation across the boards creates an appealing blended effect.

European Oak

These European boards were hand selected as a trusted raw material and canvas to work with. The light speckling seen within the tight grains occurs due to the rapid dehydration of the boards once felled. We then hand applied coloured oils to produce on-trend colours to complement the existing range.

American Barnwood

The marvellous rusticity and rotary saw markings of this salvaged American lumber create an unmistakably unique floor with unlimited potential for application. The heavy tonal shifts within this product have been enhanced by layers of natural, hand-applied finishing oils. The lively colours and character shifts generate an eye-catching floor and promote the wood's extreme variation of features, providing a real statement floor for any interior.

Brushed Oak

This batch of European Oak boards were hand selected to create a combination of flowery and straight grain boards and then brushed to heighten this interesting grain pattern. The subtle texture of the original planks, which comes across in the final emboss, adds a subtle layer of detail to the individuality of this product.

Colour and Pattern Reproduction

We are careful to make sure our brochures are accurate and printed to very high standards, but photography and printing cannot always create a perfect representation of our products. For this reason we strongly recommend that you look at a sample of any product you are considering before placing your order.

All of our products are inspired by things we have seen in the natural world. Just as variation in colour and detail is part of the unique beauty of natural materials, it is also a feature of many of our designs. This means that with some of our products you will see natural variation when your floor is laid. If in doubt, ask your retailer to show you a larger sample of the product.

We love developing new ideas and improving on our existing designs. This does mean that sometimes products are withdrawn at short notice. We hate to disappoint, and will always try to work with you to find an alternative design that you love just as much.
