Oil Service, Inc., specializes in the manufacturing and distribution of petroleum related products with a primary focus on the commercial and industrial marketplaces. The Pittsburgh, PA, company has experienced significant growth and opened a new facility to accommodate their expanding business. One of the challenges of the expansion included finding an eye-catching floor that could withstand the rigors of a thriving office space, customer visits, and a busy warehouse.

Kelly Smith, Executive Assistant with Oil Service and Acting Project Manager for the office expansion, said the company needed flooring to cover a large amount of area with a variety of different functions, including their entire office area, bathrooms, kitchen, hallways, locker room, storage and production rooms.

Because many clients and employees come into the office after working in the field, a durable and easy to clean floor was an absolute must.

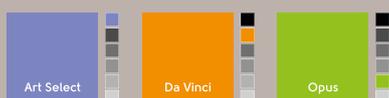

“Our general contractor wanted us to use carpet squares. They told us that it would be easy to replace a carpet square if it got dirty,” she said. “We felt like there had to be a better option.”

After hearing about Karndean, Smith said they were impressed by the many products that were available to meet the specific needs of Oil Service.

“We came across your company through a personal referral and we were really excited to see all of the different options that were available,” she said. “We were sold on the product as soon as we saw it.”

Ultimately, hardwood visuals were selected for conference rooms and executive offices, while stone looks were used to define the hallways, bathrooms, and storage areas. The installation is highlighted with stunning RL05 Spanish Cherry and beautiful borders in the executive offices and conference room. The hallways, office areas, and kitchen feature SP711 Lapis from Karndean’s Opus range. The bathrooms showcase a neutral palette in which LST04 Spirito Limestone beautifully complements the wall tiles, and vice versa. In the locker room area connected to the warehouse, SP115 Nero was a perfect fit with its contemporary appearance and durable 20mil wear layer.

With 10,000 square feet of space covered by Karndean Designflooring, the new Oil Service facility now has a stylish, practical floor to showcase as they prepare for business in their new facility.
