UNIVERSITY OF KENT – CARGO BAR

The University of Kent turned to Karndean Designflooring to complete the look of its award winning CARGO bar and bistro at Liberty Quays, Medway.

Designed by London interior design practice Stiff +, the student hospitality venue offers a nautical and industrial-style design complete with a statement concrete-effect floor design.

Taking inspiration from its maritime base at Medway, the university's in-house team chose Karndean's large rectangular Opus Urbus SP213 design with its stormy mix of light and grey tones.

'Having initially considered a real stone floor, we were immediately concerned with the practicalities of maintaining a concrete floor, and ensuring it retained its original beauty,' explains Keith Williams, Head of Trading at University of Kent.

Looking to distinguish and zone out the bar and bistro areas, Karndean's Urbus tile has been paired with the company's mid-wood rustic timber effect Opus Ignea WP313 planks.
