KARNDÉAN DESIGNFLOORING

Van Gogh Wood

The Van Gogh collection from Karndean Designflooring has received an update. Inspired by reclaimed natural wood materials, the 12 new plank designs replicate the unique look that comes from the transformation of wood over time, in addition to processes such as burning, liming and smoking. The four groups, French Oaks, American Redwood, Scottish Beech and Mexican Cypress ensure a grain and colour palette to suit a variety of hotel spaces. The complete Karndean Designflooring Van Gogh collection will now feature 32 wood designs.

MODULEO

Next Generation

An extension of Moduleo's Next Generation portfolio has resulted in new designs of the innovative Transform and Select collections, as well as a new herringbone option for the ultimate solution and customisation. The selection of designs available is almost limitless when combining the latest additions with the recently launched Impress range; a collection of embossed texture and realistic design.

TOP FLOOR

Luminoso

Luminoso, the newest collection from Topfloor by Esti, features the latest generation LED light technology. Combining the luxurious softness of hand-tufted rugs and carpets with the feature of fixed, or changing, single or multi-coloured lights woven into the pile. The collection, debuting with Stardust, features a light-generating unit that feeds the fibres from a mains power source. Finer gauge fibres give the rug a softer feel underfoot, without losing any of the light's intensity.

DEIRDRE DYSON

Walking on Art

Launching at Maison & Objet Paris, Deirdre Dyson's latest carpet and rug collection is an evolution of the 2015 Illusion range. Comprising nine designs, the designs feature blocks of colour grading and chunks of silk, integrated in a way that plays with the light for a magical effect. Strong and subtle tonal contrasts create optical illusions, while drama is added through splashes of unexpected colour.
